

INGOT PRESS

“If there’s anything I’ve come to trust in the publishing world, it’s the quality of Ingot’s releases.”

—PLANET K MAGAZINE

LA Times bestselling author
EMILY RAE ROBLES

“Full of shivers, surprises, and heartfelt charm. You’ll be laughing one moment and on edge the next.”

—PUBLISHER’S WEEKLY

Cover design by Kate Burkett

UNTIL NEXT YEAR
Emily Rae Robles

SOME LETTERS ARE BETTER LEFT UNREAD

For years, Mindy has been receiving annual letters from the Nguyens—a family she has never before met. At first, Mindy reads the letters with amusement, growing unexpectedly fond of this strange family with their five children of over-exaggerated talent and their humorous perspectives. However, when news reaches her of a suspicious family tragedy—one in which Mindy happens to be directly involved—she begins to grow concerned. Outside forces seem to be at work in a complicated mystery that causes Mindy to question her reality. Who exactly are the Nguyens? Were their letters to Mindy actually an accident? And what power is truly controlling their fate?

Photo: Rachel Porter

For ten years, Emily Rae Robles wrote her family’s holiday newsletter—an adventure in filial chronicling that no doubt helped her write an entire book about the subject. She grew up in San Diego with her parents and four siblings, drawing on this family dynamic to craft Until Next Year’s mysterious Nguyen family. Her novel The Worst Thing in the World, published by Washington Square Press, is an LA Times Best Seller. When she’s not teaching or writing, you might find her hiking through the hills of Los Angeles or engaging with her readers online. If you do, say hi.

“Robles knows how to build suspense and drive a narrative forward.”

—SHELF AWARENESS

“Emily Rae Robles’ books are must-reads for me. She writes nail-biters that are impossible to put down. Her characters are unique, and practically leap off the page. Try her books, and you’ll find out what I mean.”

—LOS ANGELES TIMES

“The beauty of the prose, mixed with the depth of characterization, gave the haunting, first person narrative a human touch.”

—KIRKUS

“Robles does it again! This book will stay with you long after you turn the last page.”

—SLATE

Publication Date:
 November 20, 2012

Price:
 $12.95 US,
 $14.95 CAN

ISBN:
 978-1-947940-48-2

Trim:
 6” x 9”

Format:
 trade paperback

Pages: 256

BISAC Category:
 FICTION / Asian American
 FICTION / Family Life
 FICTION / Science
 Fiction / General

From debut author
NICOLE GUERNSEY

“Hermione, Katniss... Charlie. Guernsey has written a strong female character that’s a breath of fresh air.”

—VARIETY

Cover design by Kate Burkett

DREAM LEGACY

Nicole Guernsey

CAN HER DREAMS SAVE THE FUTURE?

Sixteen-year-old Charlie Daniels must confront her new life head on after she finds out that she is heir to a power and prophesy that only she can fulfill. Raised by her mother in a small town in Oregon, Charlie had no idea that her father was really a very powerful man fighting to keep her safe from the evil sorcerer Cormac, who has taken control of the Underground. The magical world that is Charlie’s legacy is literally underground, in the abandoned tunnels of Portland, Boston, New York City and Cincinnati. With little help and no one to trust, Charlie and her loyal canine Goblin must brave this dangerous terrain in order to master her true powers and follow in her father’s footsteps.

Nicole Guernsey is from Santa Barbara, California where she lived until 2011. Her passion for reading and writing, especially young adult fiction, lead her to Portland, Oregon, where she is working on her Master’s Degree in Publishing. After the idea for Dream Legacy came to her in a dream, she took extensive time to research the fascinating history of Portland’s underground tunnels. Armed with this knowledge and her passion for writing, Nicole spent the next several months writing Dream Legacy in her free time between working as a waitress and school.

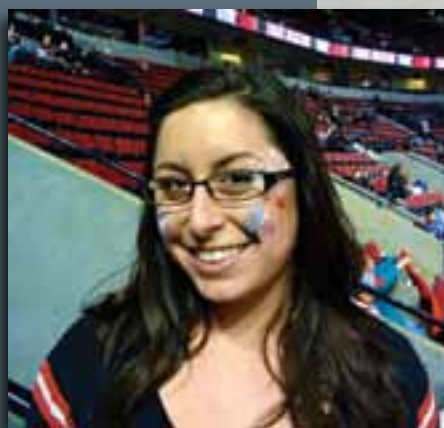

Photo: Nicole Guernsey

“Guernsey’s visionary new world will enchant you, if you let it.”

—THE NEW YORK TIMES

“This dazzling, un-put-downable debut novel proves beyond a doubt that Nicole Guernsey has a gift for writing young adult fiction.”

—BOOKPAGE.COM

“A phenomenal novel, an adventure with characters that are intriguing and real, a sublime plot, and all the right ingredients. This is a fabulous first book from an author who knows how to tell a story. I see an incredible future for her.”

—PUBLISHER’S WEEKLY

“A real page-turner. Readers will be impatient for a sequel.”

—SHELF AWARENESS

Publication Date:
August 6, 2012

Price:
$12.95 US, $14.95 CAN
(paperback), $21.95 US,
$23.95 CAN (hardback)

ISBN:
978-1-947940-47-5

Trim:
5.5” x 8.5”

Format:
trade paperback and hardcover

Pages: 404

BISAC Category:
JUVENILE FICTION /
Action & Adventure /
Survival Stories
JUVENILE FICTION /
Fantasy & Magic

Additional Titles

Cover design by Brandon Allwardt

THE GOLDEN LILY

Mirzeta Kovacevic

A powerful novel written from the perspective of a young Bosnian girl growing up in the tumultuous early nineties. The young Munevera lives through the tragedies of ethnic cleansing, bombing of her home, and difficulties of being a young woman in the middle of war. This critically acclaimed novel has won numerous awards and has launched a career for author Mirzeta Kovacevic.

ISBN: 978-1-947940-23-7 / $12.95 US, $14.95 CAN

Cover design by Brandon Allwardt

ON THE URBAN REZ

Chris Littlewolf

This satirical memoir by Chris Littlewolf follows in the same vein as Augusten Burroughs, looking into the difficulties and entertaining follies of being a Native American living in the big city rather than on the reservation. With sections on the comical stereotypes that Littlewolf faced in the city, and hardships faced when both going and leaving home, Life on the Urban Rez has had a lasting impact on readers for its poignant portrayal of the hardships and challenges faced by Native Americans today.

ISBN: 978-1-947940-41-6 / $12.95 US, $14.95 CAN

ADRIFT

Holden Shepard

Holden Shepard is drifting through space—but where is he going? Former astronaut Holden Shepard mixes science fiction and reality in this mind-bending Phillip K. Dick Award nominated fictional memoir. Shepard must navigate his past to make sense of his future accompanied only by Noah, a cynical, distant co-pilot whose provocations threaten the success of their mission. Can Noah be trusted?

ISBN: 978-1-947940-15-3 / $12.95 US, $14.95 CAN

Cover design by Kate Burkett

THE SQUIRE'S TALE

Richard King

Growing up in small town Fremont, Ohio as number nine in a family of twelve, Richard King was always surrounded by people. A quiet, hard-working boy, he spent his adolescence working in the local sugar mill to support a family dealing with a father with Alzheimer's and a younger brother with cancer. In his stunning work of autobiographical fiction, King uses dragons, swords, wizards, ogres, noblemen, and other fantastical elements to depict the events of his life leading up to adulthood.

ISBN: 978-1-947940-09-3 / $12.95 US, $14.95 CAN

Cover design by Kate Burkett

To order:
Call: 503.555.4653
Fax: 503.555.4642
Visit: www.ingotpress.com
E-mail: mail@ingotpress.com

PRSR STD
U.S. POSTAGE
PAID
PORTLAND, OR PERMIT NO. 123

Ingot Press strives to be a unique and attentive publisher that specializes in quality literary fiction, young adult fiction, and memoirs. We particularly enjoy fiction that draws upon aspects of our author's lives, but are not necessarily autobiographical.

Our press has consistently published books which have received public and critical acclaim. We are proud to work with new authors, respect all traditions, and employ sustainable publishing. Ingot Press believes manuscripts are precious metals that we delight in sharing with the world.

INGOT PRESS

P.O. Box 477
Portland, OR
97207-0751