

“Pandamorphosis transports everyone to a magical place.”

—Suzanne Braden, Director of Pandas International

In this magical tale of transformation, inspired by a young girl’s passion for pandas, a wistful pet kitty joins pandas on the loose to create fun and mayhem on a moonlit night. Pandamorphosis is a visual adventure that explores the unintended consequences of getting what you wish for. This beautifully drawn, wordless picture book transports readers through a night of magical adventure.

“Hooray for Anne Belov, who brilliantly captures the beauty and comedy of this still-mysterious species.”

—Henry Nicholls, author of The Way of the Panda

Anne Belov has been drawing and painting since the time she could hold a crayon. After receiving a BFA from The Philadelphia College of Art, she moved west and, since she didn’t learn everything the first time, went to art school again, receiving an MFA in painting from the University of Washington. She now makes her home on Whidbey Island. There are, to her knowledge, no pandas in her backyard.

$17.95
Cover Design by Kate Burkett
Cover Art by Anne Belov

Pandamorphosis

by Anne Belov

